Gol he result, it would seem, has not Mil much to the self-denying characuld appear that the general abasement was not so much on account of the consciousness of sin, as because beef was rising in price. It was pretty conclusively shown that the poor were scarcely affected by the cattle plague—that they rarely or never had the pleasure of cating beel—and that the only class the calamity could affect was the class very well able to bear it, with the exception probably of a few poor farmers who would believes that the duty of every pious person have been more readily relieved by a in this respect is performed when he prays subscription than by a day of humili-ation. At all events it has been generally considered that the action taken by the Bishops has tended more towards destroying the sacred character of prayer than towards imbuing the people with a feeling of humility. The Spectator calls the pulpit offerings "demoralizing prayers," and asks of the Gospel; but it is a lamentable fact pertinently enough—" Is not the suffering of nevertheless that the fallacies to which we he small class ruined or injured by this plague a drop in the ocean to the normal and regular suffering of a large class at the base of English society, who have never known what it is like to possess a cow, much less to lose one? If we are to humiliate ourselves, and feel bowed down in heart be cause a few thousand farmers, graziers, and drovers, are suffering bitterly, what are we to say to the chronic misery of our paupers, to deep-dyed chronic sins of every great city and every agricultural parish? have no humiliation days for these-none for hurricanes which make thousands into widows and orphans in an hour-and yet we make this small pecuniary calamity a special subject for humiliation and prayer." Many of the clergy brought up the old doctrine of "judgments," and went so far as to attribute the cattle plague to some special sins committed by the people. The Dean of Westminster, however, rebuked this bar barism in a fitting manner. "The nations of Europe," he said, "on whom this cattle plague has fallen are not to be thought on that account sinners above the rest of Europe; the counties of England and Scotland which have suffered most from this grievous pestilence are not therefore sinners above the rest of Great Britain; the individuals on whom it has fallen with greatest severity are not therefore greater sinners than those who have altogether escaped.' And the Bishop of London, in the same spirit, took for hi text-" Or those eighteen on whom the tower of Siloam fell and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you nay." It rested however, for a Worcestershire clergyman-t Mr. Crauford-to bestow the most scathing rebuke on "the day of humiliation" advocates"-Bishops and all. After picturing the object of true humiliation, he says-" Shall they use the boly office of prayer fo what? To pray for growth in grace, for nearer conformity to the image of the Redeemer here in saintly suffering and self denial, hereafter in eternal glory-for ample participation in the Bread which cometh down from heaven, that we may eat thereo and not die? No! But to pray to their Heavenly Father that He will be graciously pleased to spare the lives of their fellow creatures (for the same God made us both) not to relieve the sufferings of these poor beasts, for those sufferings the framers of our prayer seem to regard as beneath their notice—but that God will be pleased to spare their lives, that apon their bodies our carniverous appetite may be more fully gorged—that He will condescend more abundantly to supply the shambles, and suffer not the victims of the pole-axe to decrease! Such spiritual prayers will doubt-less be matched, in due season, by equally spiritual thanksgivings! When the disease has run its destined course, and our cattle once more abound, I suppose men heedless of God's greater mercies—heedless, comparatively at least of the means of grace, and of the hope of glory, will assemble once more to thank Him that He has given them their hearts' desire-that, meat being once more abundant, they are not disappointed of their lust; and their psalm of thanksgiving, no doubt will be to the tune of ' O, the Roast Beef of Old England.' Come not into their Assembly, O my soul! It, indeed, we were suffering such horrors as one reads of as occurring in an Irish or an Indian famine -if thousands were perishing around up

It is astonishing what mockeries and what shams still disport themselves in high places. and how the earthly desires of men are laid Creator. But probably the worst feature in this day of humiliation is the gross ignorance or hypocrisy of men attributing, as a sort of "special dispensation," an event just as natural in its way as the falling of rain. The ignorance of the past put down every scourge to the wickedness of man, and tried to dis sipate it by prayer; the enlightenment of the present sees a cause for most calamities, and instead of crying to Jupiter endeavors to re-move the evil. If cholera or fever threatens, the wise men and the good men instead of praying to evert the calamity, attend to nature's laws and look carefully after the been evinced at one time of small-pox. IDY THEM A LADY CAN, IN A FEW minutes, shape any article of wearing apparel, including the GORED DRESS, BAS-QUINE, SACK, POSTILLION, ZOUAVE, GIRDLE, APRON, PANTALOONS, VEST, &c. to fit perfectly without trying on. The System is Mathematically perfect, hence it removes all anxiety regarding the fit of a Dress. There will be no ALTERING—no TAKING UP or LETTING OUT, which not only injures the material but destroys the propertions and often ruins the Dress. It is not only exact, but so clear and simple that any person can learn in an hour to cut any garment.

How many ladies of limited means could dress better could they SAVE THE PRICE OF THE MAKING OF A DRESS, which they can do by the use of these MODELS; and how much use-less anxiety would be saved by the wealthy and most fastidious were they certain that the dress being made would fit to pleas them. It would if cut by this system.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

We have often spoken of this great media cine in terms of very high praise, and we have as often felt that all we could say in one of those medicines of which we can speak-and speak decisively-from experience; for we have repeatedly taken it, and cost, by the way—that is the cost of all the ingredients of which it is composed—has been considerably increased, but the price of the medicine has been but very little advanced. It is not likely the popularity of Davis' Pain killer will in any measure decrease, or that the demand for it will in the slightest degree decline, until some other specific for allaying pain and curing the various complaints for which it is so generally used, shall be discovered, of equal potency with it—of which there seems to be little probability. As a remedy for stomach complaints, such as dysentary, diarrhea, &c., the Pain Killer is without doubt unsurpassed, and everywhere most deservedly in demand. One, two, or three doses, of a teaspoonful each, in a wine glass of milk and water, with a little sugar, have repeatedly, within our knowledge, effectually cured services at the proper time, the Pain Killer will and the proper time, the Pain Killer will and the proper time, the Pain Killer will and like a charm, and frequently cure wen nothing else will.—Providence Advertiser.

Meeting at Liverpool.

Atlantic telegraph was held at Liverpool for the purpose of hearing explanations from Mr. Ogrus Field, Captain Anderson, Mr. Canning, and Mr. Varley, as to the present to be classed with Herculaneum and Pompei, position and prospects of the undertaking. Mr. Field was voted to the chair, and he explained the circumstances under which the enterprise had been handed over by the Atlantic Telegraph Company to the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, which is now subscribing £600.000 for the purpose of laying the new cable and completing the old one. He explained that this course was imone. He explained that this course was imporative to insure the carrying out of the project during the ensuing summer, in consequence of the decision of the Attorney-General that the Atlantic Tolegraph Company had no power to issue 12 per cent. preference shares. The new company would be answerable for the successful laying of the cable, and would then have a claim to a certain amount on the profits of the undertaking. If any shareholder thought this anipust, of course he was welcome to take as many shares as he liked in the new company Mr. Canning then gave a short account of the experiences gained, and the improvements effected in the machinery. He had not the slightest fear but that in their next effort they would be quite successful, not only in taking. If any shareholder thought this and just, of course he was welcome to take as many shares as he liked in the new company Mr. Canning then gave a short account of the experiences gained, and the improvements effected in the machinery. He had not the slightest fear but that in their next effort they would be quite successful, not only in laying the new line, but in recovering and completing the one partially laid last summer. Captain Anderson said they were prepared to anticipate even worse difficulties than any yet met, and no difficultiy had been suggested which they were not fully prepared to meet and overcome. He had the fullest confidence in the Great Eastern. Mr. Varley, the electrician, entered more fully into the details of the project, and showed the advantages which the new cable would possess over the old one, in having a greater breaking strain. He also showed that with improved apparatus the recovery of the old cable and its completion would be a work of very little difficulty, and of almost certain success. As to the earnings he showed that with the Persian Gulfeable grand nearly xL100.000 success. that all parents who are not conversant with the wonderful properties of Holloway's Onther will be glad to learn, on good authority, that it is a quick and thorough remedy for Ringworm and Scale Head, as well as for other external diseases. The testimony which goes to establish the fact is incontrovertible, and every mother who wishes to see the faces of her darlings unclouded by erruptions, and their heads uncrusted with excrescent matter, is entitled to know it. a year, and that with bad management and great delays; with the Atlantic cable, and the improved instruments for the transmission of messages, which were extremely sensitive and delicate, he believed it would be no exaggeration to say that at the proposed rate of charges it would be quite able to remit messages at a speed which would earn a million pounds per annum. In the course of his remarks, he explained the mauner in which the splicings or joinings of the cables are formed. So delicate, said he, were the tests employed that it was often found that the state of an operator's nerves or skin seriously now it.
Professor Holloway has obtained such a reputation throughout the world for his ex-ternal and internal remedies, that his name ternal and internal remedies, that his name must, of course, be familiar to all our readers; but after all, there is no harta in giving point and force to general commendation by specifying cettain diseases in which one knows that they have worked wonders. The effect of the Ointment in cases of Ringwork and Scald Head is but a specimen of its marvellous operation in all skin diseases; yet, we dare say, there are many who have used it for boils, bruises, blotches, &c., &c., who have scarcely thought of it with refersance to these two scourges of childhood. If state of an operator's nerves or skin seriously affected the work; and it had often happened affected the work; and it had often happened that when a man had been living freely the previous day his work in splicing failed to pass the test, and was rejected. In answer to questions, Mr. Canning and Mr. Varley explained that the state of the cable at the bottom of the Atlantic up to the point where it parted was as perfect now as the day it was laid. Mr. Varley also stated that the first cable laid was destroyed by the immense nower required, owing to the impers who have scarcely thought of it with refer-ance to these two scourges of childhood. It any mother should try it on our recommen-dation, we have little doubt she will give it a permanent place in her nursery closet for some time to come. Much may be done to mense power required, owing to the imperfect instruments and probable defective insulation to remit words at a rapid rate. As high a power as 5,000 cells to one battery had been then employed; but with the last cable an order had been made that ne greater power than 20 cells should be used, and it was quite possible to obtain with the improved instruments a rate of five or six words a minute, with a power of only a single cell. A gentleman remarked that there was a letter in The Times, signed by an engineer, and apparently a man of some note, but he could not recollect his name, who had declared that it was a mechanical impossibility to raise the sunken cable, bemense power required, owing to the impersome time to come. Much may be done to provent the ordinary cutaneous diseases of children by proper diet, strict cleanliness, and regular exercise in the open air; but after the disorder has actually developed itself, there is no curative so reliable as Holloway's Ointment.—Albany Daily State

GABRIEL ON THE LOSS AND RESTORATION OF THE TEETH.—The above is issued by Messrs, Garrier, the eminent London dentists, and as it is written by men who have a high standing in their profession, the work is well worthy the perusal of all who value the preservation of their teeth and wish to guard against the many and tormenting evils to which those useful members are subject. Many valuable hints are given throughout the book as to the various means of preserving the teeth and gums in a healthy condition, and of arresting in many cases permanently the progress of decay which may have already set in. The little work is evidently written by men of long experience in their profession, and who are thorough masters of their subject, and as such may be honestly recommended. Mr. Field said that one gentleman called upon him and proposed to sink a hollow tube to the bottom of the sea, and then go down in it, and look for the cable. He plagued him considerably, until one morning he (Mr. Field) told him that he had decided that the thing could be done, and he (the inventor) should have the appointment to go down and look for it. principle emooded is this: If, owing to want of wisdom or extravagance on the part of our rulers, the value of property declines, the rovenue which is required to pay the salaries (for the Executive proposes no public works), declines in the same proportion, the funds to meet the said salaries become insufficient, and then a wholesome lesson is taught to the powers that be.

Now, what are the facts? The Governor locks up the Crown lands, and the key rusts in his pocket, as a punishment to the colonists because they will not undertake to pay a civil list out of all proportion to the population and circumstances of this small place. Settlement of the country is discontinued, no land sales are effected, and the fund upon which the Governor and Colonial Secretary have hitherto relied for their salaries this year is certain to fall short; and the Treasurer gravely informs the public "that the general revenue must be charged with the annual salaries payable out of the lands, in Holloway's Ointmentand Pills, a certain remedy for diseases of the skin—Ringworm, sourcy, scordula, or king's evil, sore heads, and the most inverente skin diseases to which the human race is subject, cannot be treated with a more safe and speedy remedy than Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which act so peculiarly on the constitution, and so purify the blood that those diseases are eradicated from the system, and a lasting cure is obtained. They are equally efficacious in the cure of tumours, burns, scalds, glandular swellings, ulcerous wounds, rheumatism, contracted and stiffoints. These medicines operate mildly and surely. The cure effected by them is not temporary or apparent only, but complete and permanent. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS, a certain

The Revisors of former years apparently thought that they would best discharge the duties of their office by levying the heaviest tax that it was possible for each property owner to pay without actual insolvency—a course which has greatly contributed to the existing vast reduction in the value of property, has stopped building and improvement, and so impoverished the owner as seriously to diminish his capability of employing labor. As a corollary it is clear that masmuch as unproductive improvements have no market value, they are therefore by the Act of 1860 not liable to taxation. Take for instance a lot with a building upon it, which cannot be let, the lot should be assessed separately at its market value, but the building not at all. To do so is simply to punish the enterprising improver for erecting a building which at REOR AND AFFER THES DATE I will not be responsible for the actions of my wife, annic Portcous, nor liquidate any debts which she may contract. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT—Stomach HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT—Stomach and Kidneys. Between these two organs there exists a close and intimate relation which is demonstrated by the wasting which occurs in all diseases afflicting the kidneys. The disordered stomach is often the first index of renal irregularity. Holloway's remedies used at that juncture would cut short many a serious and fattal attack. They act with wonderful efficacy on every organ of secretion, but especially do they regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys, in restoring their healthy functions, and casting out any obstructions or impurities. It is necessary any observations or impurities. It is necessary for the ointment to be well rubbed into the small of the back twice daily, when it is absorbed, and greatly augments the purifying and salutary in-fluence of the Pills.

Holloway's Ointment.—Wounds, Scalds, Burns, and Irritating Sores.—The peculiarly mild, soothing, anti-inflammatory power exerted by this iointment strongly recommends its use to all persons who have charge of children. Accidents will occur in the nursery in spite of the greatest caution and utmost vigilance. The scratch, the burn, or the scald, treated early with this Ointment, assumes no anary aspect, and never long tortues the little sufferer, whose very cry excites each bystander's compassion and pierces the parents heart. Every nurse should consider this invaluable Ointment an essential to a well appointed nursery. The Ointment is applicable to any ore, whatever its character. It conducts to health as sure as the compass points to the north.

and a tone and vigour to the whole system. The Lintment, when well rubbed into the parts affected, enters the flesh just as salt enters meat, and if the Pills be taken as an auxiliary, are cure is speedy, thorough, and permanent. These medicaments are composed of rare balsams, without the admixture of a grain of mercury or any injurious substance. They are peculiarly mild and gentle in their action, and are as safe as they are efficacious.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills—These potent remedies constitute a materia medica in themselves, for there is no i ternal or external disorder cont. ollable by met, ine for which the one or the other of them is not a positive remedy—eruptions, tum'rs, serofula, seury, cancer, asthma, rheumatism, gout, and dropsy entirely tubside and disappear under the action of these joint medicines; and in cases of indigestion, sick headache, bile, liver complaints, debility, and other disorders originating in the internal organs, the Pills produce the most asteudshing results imaginable. The student of Nature knows how simple are her ways; if one preparation can throw out all the impurities of the blood, disease is conquered and art is triumphant, because it adopted the simplicity of Nature.
